

FIELD INTERVIEWER POSITIONS AVAILABLE

NORC at the University of Chicago is looking for outgoing, persuasive people to conduct in-person interviews in households of selected respondents for our WINS project. NORC's Field Interviewer role is at the core of our work. Join us to contribute to an important national research project that has the potential to affect government policy!

Ideal candidates will:

- Engage with people to collect data and work independently visiting respondent homes
- Keep respondent data confidential and secure
- Work 20-25 hours per week, (with periods where more than 20-25 hours are available)
- Have a valid driver's license, auto insurance, and a functional car
- Be able to work both daytime AND evening/weekend hours flexibly

What's in it for you:

- Compensation: $16.50 per hour (plus mileage) in Dane County
- $200 for sharing proof of COVID vaccination, even if you were vaccinated before you are hired
- Work independently while still being part of a team
- Set your own schedule with guidance from a field manager

Visit careers.norc.org to apply today for the Madison, WI. posting #497456

This is a state wide job offering. Visit careers.norc.org to apply to a location near you.